Q2: Are you making this submission survey as a registered practitioner

Q3: Please tell us which part of the sector your submission survey represents a registered dentist or dental specialist

PAGE 3: General question about recertification

Q4: Do you think the Dental Council needs to make changes to its current recertification framework? Yes - it needs to make substantive changes

PAGE 4: Area for change one: public assurance

Q5: Each of the seven statements below are equally important components of good oral health care. We want to identify where there are gaps or weaknesses in the way our oral health practitioners serve the public. Please rank the components from 1-7, with one being the component you think needs the most improvement and seven being the component you think needs the least improvement:

Patients are confident their practitioner will not harm them	5
Patients receive the appropriate treatment for their oral health concern or issue	4
Patients receive appropriate information about their treatment and care	2
Patients needs and concerns are discussed and addressed with their practitioner	1
Patients feel they are treated with dignity and respect at all times	3
Patients feel confident their practitioner has the knowledge and skills to treat them	6
Patients know how to complain about treatment they have received from their practitioner	7

Q6: Do you think the Dental Council needs to equip patients and the public to recognise poor practise?

No,

Please give your reasons:

The Dental Profession should be confident that there is no poor practise. The dental profession should ensure public awareness about good practise. It should not be the Council's role to educate the public about poor practise . It would be very hard to educate the public about every possible area of poor practise. In general, the public are pretty good at spotting certain areas of poor practise. .

Q7: Do you feel you have adequate information about the Dental Council's approach to regulation?

Yes

Q8: A risk pyramid illustrates the connection between the desired actions and/or behaviours of a practitioner and the differing level of responses a regulator can use to encourage and/or achieve the desired action and/or behaviour. Do you think the Dental Council should develop a risk pyramid/matrix to explain the types and levels of risk and corresponding regulatory responses?

Yes,

Please give your reasons:

Sounds like a good visual way to make everything clear and leaves no chance of ambiguity.

PAGE 6: Area for change three: risk identification

Q9: Which (if any) of these tools and mechanisms do you think the Dental Council should be using to identify and manage risk?

Practice audits, Practice questionnaires,

Inquiries such as those under section 36 of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003

Risk factors for practitioners,

Competence and recertification programmes ,

Practical training/experience for a period of time ,

Course of instruction,

Supervision, counselling and/or mentoring

No

Q11: Do you think any of these risk tools or mechanisms are more effective than others?

Respondent skipped this question

PAGE 7: Area for change four: early intervention

Q12: Do you think the Dental Council should explore the use of risk analysis and risk-profiling to identify poor practise sooner?

Yes,

Please give your reasons:
Given the evidence discussed at the Wellington Forum

PAGE 8: Area for change five: compliance

Q13: Do you think the Dental Council should explore the use of incentives to encourage practitioner compliance?

Yes,

Please give your reasons:
It should be a 'given' that practitioners comply, no carrot required but a sliding scale of fees may encourage the outliers to comply

Q14: What do you think the Dental Council could do differently to encourage practitioner compliance with its recertification requirements? Please explain:

Respondent skipped this question

PAGE 9: Area for change six: ongoing education and learning opportunities

Q15: Do you think the Dental Council should change its current amount of prescribed hours and peer activities?

No - the cycle length is about right

Q17: Please rank the following statements (with one being most important and eight being least important) according to the following question: Which actions should the Dental Council prioritise when considering its approach to ongoing education and learning opportunities?

Permitting practitioners to set their own hours of education and learning opportunities and quantity of peer activities	6
