Where will they work? Nobody will hire someone privately and charge out cheaper fillings. Why is their role changing? Do health statistics to show that children aren't in need dentally? I very much doubt that. Also, patients over 18 come with greater pathology, medical complications etc. To manage these patients you need to have years of study and exposure to these patients in training. There hasn't been enough information in this submission to show what training there would be exactly. Also, who asked for this submission? A dental therapist? Hmm...
